

Gospel Art for the Eighth Sunday in Ordinary Time (Year A): Jesus said: "Why are you anxious about clothes? Learn from the way the wild flowers grow. They do not work or spin. But I tell you that not even Solomon in all his splendor was clothed like one of them. If God so clothes the grass of the field, which grows today and is thrown into the oven tomorrow, will he not much more provide for you, O you of little faith?" (Mt 6:24–34).

Concept by Fr. Antonio Molavin, SDB, color by Reynald Claudio.